Art Unit: 1796

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites a “substance or mixture of substances in the form of a micropowder” at lines 1-2. The claim then recites components A and B.

It is unclear whether components A and B constitute the “mixture of substances” referred to earlier. If so, then the claim is indefinite since it requires a mixture of substances and precludes “a substance” and component B does not qualify as a “micropowder” since it is allowed to have particle sizes of up to 5 mm.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by each of WO '325 and EP '092.

Each of these references are directed to uniformly distributing microparticulate substances into a polymeric matrix. While the method steps may not be identical, it is the position of the examiner that applicants' product is not patentably distinct from the products of the reference since uniform distribution is achieved in all cases.
